Good Vibrations

Keeping the Spirit Alive

The beginning of the school year saw many changes. County policy dictated the prohibition of smoking on school grounds, ending the once crowded smoking area. The tradition of pep rallies came to an end because the student body was larger than the gym's seating capacity. Many students objected to the elimination of pep rallies; Senior Donna Britt said, "Pep rallies are part of high school! I really missed them this year." Another potential threat to the level of Lancer spirit was the absence of an elected Lanny.

Students, however, did not let these changes cramp their style; instead, individual students took the initiative in keeping school spirit alive. The appearance of the "Unknown Lancer" at the basketball games was an example of the student support of the various athletic teams. In the words of Junior Mike Shuman:

> The "Unknown Lancer" not only made the basketball games exciting, but also showed the other schools our enthusiasm.

Thus, it was the ways in which spirit was demonstrated that changed; the level of spirit itself remained unalterable. The Spirit Committee of the SCA recognized an Athlete of the Week from the different athletic teams. The cheerleaders and the Spirit Committee sponsored dress-up days, which were held before important athletic events. Through their work and the overall dedication of the student body, Good Vibrations survived the changes.

Who is this masked man? The Unknown Lancer makes an appearance at a basketball game with David McGill.

Good Vibrations

A State of Changes

The trends at Manchester paralled local and statewide changes. At the end of October the James River flooded, leaving many residents of Roanoke homeless. Richmond businesses located in Shockoe Bottom were forced to evacuate due to the flood.

The commonwealth attracted national attention after the November election of state officials. In a Democratic sweep, the State elected Gerald Baliles to the office of Governor. Doug Wilder became the first black Lieutenant Govenor in Virginia, and one of the first nationwide. The election of Mary Sue Terry also attracted attention, as she became the first woman Attorney General in Virginia.

Virginians watched former Govenor Chuck Robb step into the national limelight. Robb gave the Democratic response to President Reagan's State of the Union Address and was named as a possible candidate for Vice-President in the 1988 election.

Many Lancers saw the General Assembly in session as they worked to complete their General Assembly projects. This first-hand view of the General Assembly shocked many students. As senior Buddy Tignor said,

> I found it very distressing that these people run the State. Half of the delegates weren't even paying attention!

Students watched as their bills were passed or gutted. Bills such as the marital rape bill and a bill to delay school opening until after Labor Day passed; while, the controversial seat belt bill was killed. Through their participation in the General Assembly projects, students saw the legislature make changes that would affect them.

Events Bring Excitement

School events gave students the opportunity to experience the excitement of high school. These activities composed the future memories of high school; for, they gave the school a feeling of unity.

With Homecoming week-end in the Fall, Lancers got an early taste of "Lancer Life." Powderpuff quickly followed, with it the anticipation of prom and graduation.

Strong student involvement made each event a success. The hard work that students put into the production of the Homecoming floats and the hours of dedicated practice for the Powderpuff football game demonstrated the students' desire to create a unified student body.

The Manchester/Monacan Dance was a new item of Lancers' social calendars. The dance was held at Monacan, but that did not deter a large Lancer attendance.

Action picked up in the Spring with the Senior/Faculty basketball game. After an elaborate entrance by Mr. Donne Storino, the seniors set to work to defeat the faculty. The faculty appeared to be the only ones suprised by their defeat.

The arrival of prom and graduation signaled the end of the school year and the beginning of memories. Lancers will remember the individual events and especially the Good Vibrations that they provided.

Throwing confetti, athletes show their spirit by riding on the Athletic Association float.

Parading School Spirit

Many hours of hard work were displayed as the Homecoming floats circled the track. Clubs and classes had transformed flat-bed trucks into symbols of their school spirit and creativity. The sophomore class won first prize for "Roasting the Blue Devils." In addition, the French Club won first prize in the club division of the competition. Students agreed that the real excitement of the parade was participation. Jean Bergeron said, "It was a lot of fun riding on the Athletic Association float, but I almost froze in my field hockey kilt!"

After the completion of the parade, the football team charged onto the field. The Lancers played a close game against the Varina Blue Devils. Even though they were defeated 14-7, Lancer spirit prevailed.

The halftime activities got underway as the princesses were escorted onto the field. Last year's Queen Andrea Holland built the suspense by walking behind each senior princess. Finally, she crowned Keri Hargrave as Homecoming Queen.

Leading the mascots, Lancer Jeff Tarkington walks with David Austin and Laura Wood.

After being crowned, Keri Hargrave is escorted off of the field by Principal David Jones.

Almost Paradise. Jason Minadakis and his date slow dance to the music of "Excaliber."

Almost Paradise

Lancers Make Memories

Dancing beneath the stars, Lancers made memories at the Homecoming Dance. The dance featured "Excaliber." Kristin Benson, the band's lead singer, returned to her alma mater to provide the dance's musical entertainment. Sophomore Amy Austin said, "The band was great, especially when they played 'Shout!'"

S.C.A. and National Art Honor Society members worked hard to portray the theme "Almost Paradise." Stars made from tin foil were hung and crepe paper flowers were attached to tables and the walls.

The Homecoming Queen and princesses were honored with the traditional princeses' dance. Keeping with the theme, they danced to "Almost Paradise."

Junior Jean Baltz said, "The dance was a lot of fun and a great end to Homecoming week-end."

In her Sunday best, Michelle Duffie waits for the band to begin to play.

Taking a breather, Kristen Hodge and her date wait for the refreshments.

Offering encouragement, Tony Dowdy psyches the Seniors for the match-up.

Breaking Tradition

Seniors can remember when the Powderpuff football games were fixed so that the Seniors would win. Such is no longer the case; it was every girl for herself at the annual powderpuff game. Some things don't change. As always, the Senior girls were pitted against the Junior girls. Support came from the Junior and Senior guys dressed as cheerleaders.

Both teams were limited to two mandatory practices. Yet, the teams each scheduled more to prepare for the matchup. The Juniors were coached by Beverly Ross, Gary Steele, and Greg Taylor. Senior coaches were Tony Dowdy, Scott Slaughter, and Mike Vincent.

The usual excitement was evident as the game began. With two scoreless quarters, the excitement began to die down. The Class of '87 scored the first and only touchdown in the third quarter. The Juniors shutout the Seniors with the final score of 8-0.

Commented Junior Class President Robin Gaines, "In the beginning, we weren't very confident about how we would play. I think all the practices paid off in the end and pulled the class closer together."

The Seniors didn't let the loss deter them. In keeping with the Senior attitude, nothing got the Seniors down. As Megan O'Connell said, "So we lost, who cares? At least we had fun!"

Watching intensely, Senior Coach Tony Dowdy hopes for a victory.

Manic Wednesday! Sharon Webb, Darryl Thompson, Jeff Tarkington, Mr. Rick Boyle, Coach Jarvis, and Curtis Cornell appear confused.

Bedtime for Bonzo

A juggler, a snake charmer a gypsy, the Strange Ones Squid Squad, drummers, trumpet players, the flag corps, the Lancerettes, and of course, the man himself — Lord English carried on a platform. This creative melangé made a special appearance at the Senior/Faculty Basketball Game. After an inspirational speech from President Reagan via a news flash, the game got underway.

The faculty struggled to "win one for the Gipper" and put an end to "those nasty seniors." The seniors, however, had something else in mind, declaring that it was Bedtime for Bonzo.

Supporting the seniors, were the Coob Brothers, who risked limb and life. While attempting to kidnap Ricky Morgan, the faculty cheerleaders almost ripped off his arms.

The seniors retaliated by carrying Coach Livesay, the faculty's foul shooter, off the court. Having Livesay shoot all of their foul shots, was only one way in which the faculty attempted to illegally keep the seniors from winning.

But Bonzo's bedtime came early for faculty. The seniors defeated the faculty 70-66.

Senior Elizabeth Bilyeu commented, "We really needed to win. It brought the class together."

Enjoying the festivities, the faculty plots to overthrow the nasty seniors.

Snake woman! Tory Campbell handles a five-foot rainbow boa.

The man himself, Lord English is carried in by senior escorts.

Briefing the mascots, Mrs. Janet Nuchols and Mrs. Myra Shumate give directions to Johnathan Nuckols and Stephanie Shumate.

Prom Dreams

The Prom theme proclaimed that "Dreams Are Forever." Prom signaled the beginning of the senior activities that would end the year, and it gave juniors their first taste of the "Senior Life."

Most couples began their evening by dining out. Eric's, The Tobacco Company, and the Officer's Club were popular choices among seniors. Couples began arriving at DSGC at 8:00. They were greeted by sophomore prom servers and given memory books.

Prom figure began with the formation of a heart. The participants, who were leaders in clubs or sports, then formed an "M" and an "86" to honor the graduating class. After the figure, Prom King and Queen were announced. Lee Farmer and Cheryl Bagby were picked by their classmates to reign over the evening.

Students then danced to the sound of Excaliber, who mixed top forty hits with all time favorites. Many couples braved the long picture line; while others decided that an hour wait was too long. Couples later attended breakfasts and a beach party at 71st Street of Virginia Beach.

Dancing to Excaliber, couples enjoy a slow song.

Accepting his award, Jeff Wilkinson stands before the crowd.

Outstanding Graduate! Elizabeth Bilyeu gives Mr. Jones a hug.

Tradition Wins

Despite the rumors that the Senior Assembly would be held at night for only seniors and their families, tradition was upheld and the Assembly honored the seniors during school in the more crowded and definitely warmer gymnasium.

The top honor, "Outstanding Graduate," was presented to Elizabeth Bilyeu, who said, "It was something that I'll never, ever forget."

After the Assembly, seniors went to parties and sunbathed at the River. Later that evening the senior class attended their Banquet at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

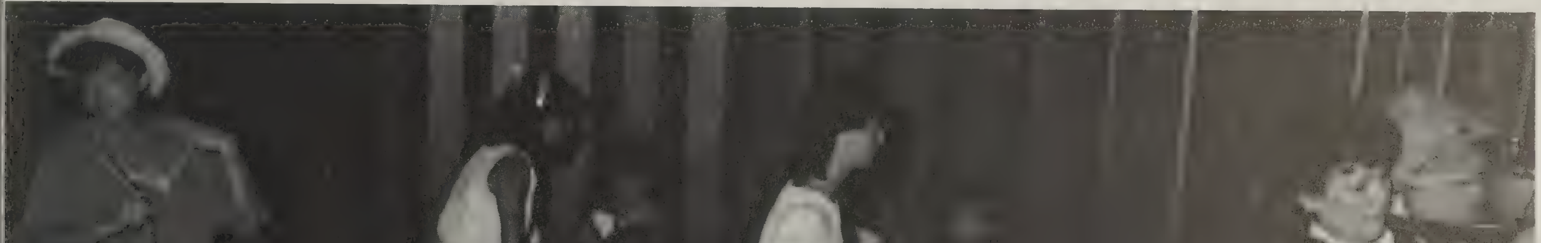
The highlight of the evening was the reading of the Last Will and Testament by Johnny McGill and Tommy Reed. The teachers read their own version and proved that they knew more about their students than had been thought. Jody Hobbs then read the Prophecy, which centered around a class reunion held at the White House by invitation of President Gee Owens.

Shannon Smith said, "The banquet was a great way to end the year. It helped prepare us for graduation." Tim Padgett added, "Gee, President? No way!"

How did the dead baby cross the road? Testators Johnny McGill and Tommy Reed provide entertainment between the reading of the Last Will and Testament.

Declaring that Gee Owens will be President one day, Jody Hobbs reads the prophecy at the banquet.

Girl Talk! Seniors prepare to line up before the awards assembly.



Enjoying the banquet, Seniors prepare to listen to he Testators.

I now pronounce you graduated. Celebration fills the air as Mr. David Jones ends the ceremony.

Early Risers

The Class of 1986 was the class to graduate the earliest, for graduation was held in the morning for the first time.

The ceremony featured speeches by Class President Keri Hargrave, Valedictorian Timothy Turner, and Keynote Speaker Mrs. Debora Easton.

Tim Turner compared graduation and the future to the ocean and the past to the passing waves. His speech was particularly relevant because many seniors had plans for Beach Week.

Mrs. Easton spoke about making decisions and urged the class "to take responsibility for your decisions; make your decisions your own." Speaking as a history teacher, Mrs. Easton stressed the importance of time and alluded to the decisions that have shaped America's history.

After the speeches, Mr. Ron Gunter called each of the 316 candidates for graduation to receive their diplomas, which were presented by Principal David Jones.

Mr. Jones then announced the class graduated. After turning their tassles, the graduates tossed their caps into the air, hugged their friends and family members, and prepared for Beach Week and the passing waves.

Keynote Speaker, Mrs. Debbie Easton, admonishes the Seniors to seek advice when making decisions but to accept full responsibility for their results.

Friends to the end. Hatless Seniors bid their farewells before departing Lancer Stadium.

Class Valedictorian. Speaking of the beach metaphorically, Tim Turner addresses the class on the importance of friendships.

Academics

Pursuing Excellence

Academics, what's that? The first week of school quickly answered this question for many students; with it came the realization that academics is the real reason for school. The continued dedication to academic excellence was evident. Many new teachers were hired to cope with the growing size of the student body. Teachers demonstrated their dedication to education through their participation in Project TEE. More school time was allotted to actual classes as pep rallies became a thing of the past.

This pursuit of excellence did not mean a monotonous school day. English classes provided active participation as students acted out scenes from literature. Foreign language classes provided a glimpse into the culture of other countries through foreign food tasting days. Students participated in a mock trial in the practical law class and government students journeyed downtown to catch the General Assembly in action.

Science classes offered hands-on experience through laboratory work. Biology students were visited by the "Snake Man." The new AP Chemistry class provided a challenge to many seniors. The Math Department continued the incorporation of computers in the curriculum.

This overall dedication to academics created an atmosphere of Good Vibrations.

Debate/Forensics

Collecting Hardware

Water, water everywhere without a drop to drink! The debate class was less than thrilled to learn that the whole debate season would be spent researching and debating a resolution dealing with water quality.

The lack of enthusiasm for the resolution did not stop the debaters from having a successful year; they collected massive amounts of "hardware" and "hood ornaments." The trophy collection created numerous round building casualties by blinding students with the metallic surfaces. These trophies included three 1986 State Championships, a first in Virginia High School League history.

Noelle Reese commented:

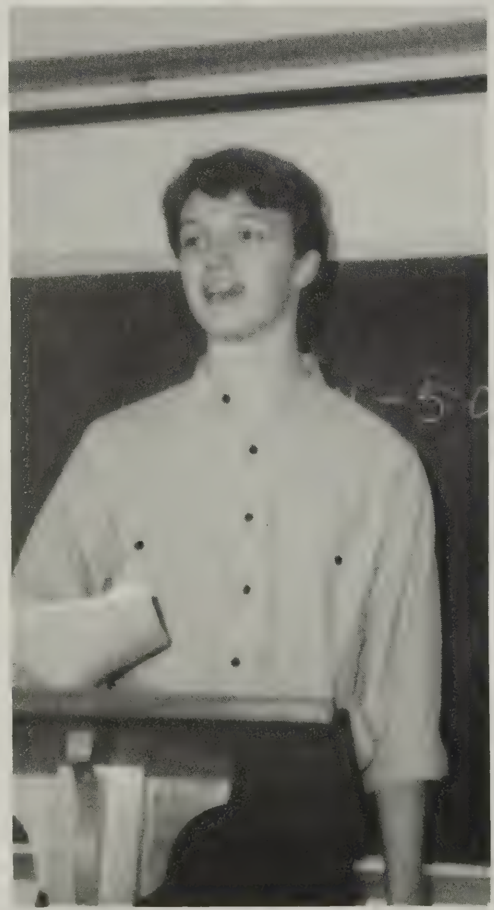
> Debate is fun. Beating up on nerds is a big time!

The forensics team also enjoyed a successful season and an accumulation of hardware. With new sponsor Mrs. Bonnie Norfleet, the team attended several invitational competitions including one held at Longwood College.

The forensics team distinguished themselves at the Regional competition. Michelle Duffie placed first in serious dramatic interpretation as did Amy Bucklen in the poetry interpretation contest and Alice Anne Potts in spelling. Because of the first place winnings, the team won the second place sweepstakes trophy and was recognized as being the only school in the region to have all participants win first place awards.

Looking over results, Mrs. Bonnie Norfleet shows forensics students how they compare to other schools.

In a "brief" conversation, Mr. Mike Wildasin, Mark Sanger, and Noelle Reese discuss strategy.



Participating in a classroom debate, Tim Padgett speaks on "rad" waste.

Attacking the affirmatives' claims, Sharon Webb gives her speech.

Debaters aren't nerds! Tim Turner dresses up as Mr. Mike Wildasin for Nerd Day.

Learning Through Challenges

The Science Department offered students a new challenge: AP Chemistry. Jeff Tarkington jokingly commented, "It's an uphill battle, but if you enjoy staying up late and coming in early, go for it. Oh, don't bother asking for a curve; it's a waste of breath!"

Clare Speno added:

> It was an incredible challenge, and truly an ego-deflater, but Captain Chemistry made it all worthwhile.

Through the Science Club, students were provided a less demanding way of enjoying the study of science. Sponsored by Mr. John Thorton and Mrs. Mary Anderson, the Science Club went on field trips to the Science Museum and the Halley's Comet Watch. The group also sold science fair proposals and updated the computer bulletin board.

The Math Department offered students the opportunity to compete in various math competitions. Kenny Palmer and Clif Stargart were recognized for their achievement in the National High School Exam.

Many students took advantage of the computer classes. John Coe commented, "I was glad to have the opportunity to take the AP Computer course, but it was a challenge."

Chorus

The Song Of Success

"After being in chorus for four years, I have to say that I have definitely matured quickly because of its challenges and I will deeply miss being a part of the Manchester chorus in years to come," commented Pam Johnson, a member of Capital Swing.

Because of the variety and number of choruses, many students were able to take part in chorus and learn from the experience. Mrs. Susan Wood directed the Mixed Chorus, Lance Singers, Capital Swing, and Madrigals. A new faculty member, Mr. Andrew Pittard, directed the Girls Ensemble.

The choruses performed throughout Richmond. They entertained crowds at the State Fair, Meadowbrook Country Club, Sixth Street Marketplace, and Main Street Station. The choruses also traveled to Lynchburg and Harrisonburg to perform, but the highlight of the year was the May trip to Quebec, Canada.

Captial Swing, Madrigals, and the Girls Ensemble traveled to Quebec where they enjoyed a tour of the Beaupre Coast, sampled the French cuisine, and performed at the Festival de Quebec.

Another highlight of the year was the State Choral Competition. Michael Berkley, Shannon Chambers, Todd Early, Howard Halverson, Polly Hathaway, Pam Johnson, and Ginger Wilson were named to the All-Virginia Chorus.

Perhaps the success of the choruses can best be summed up by the reaction of the other students. As Elizabeth Bilyeu said at the end of the Christmas Concert:

Is it over already? I could have listened to them forever!

Entertaining the audience, Ellen Carter and Todd Early sing with Madrigals at the Christmas concert.

Capital Swing. The jazz choir performs "We Go Together."

Veritable Feast Of Education

Enter a zone where hundreds of years go by in a week, where lords and serfs mingle with Greek gods and tell-tale hearts. Enter a territory where Congress is always in session, and where Hamlet dies a thousand deaths — you have now entered the round building, the point of no return; you are now a participant in the stage production of literature and history, courtesy of your local English and Social Studies departments . . .

Through public speaking, English classes encouraged student participation. Freshman classes recreated the Scopes Trial by their interpretation of Inherit the Wind. Arms and the Man was brought to life by sophomore English classes.

Juniors and seniors were elightened by in-depth study of literature, such as The Scarlet Letter and Hamlet. Displaying their appreciation of the arts, seniors purchased tee-shirts with the Hamlet soliloquy printed on the back.

The social studies department also encouraged student involvement. Nostalgia weeks were held for the 20's, 50's, and 60's. One day of each week was designated as a dress-up day. During the 50's week students attended a sock hop and listened to the tunes of the 50's and 60's. Otis Day made a surprise appearance.

The practical law class held a mock trial with the help of a local law expert. Senior Tory Campbell acted as defense attorney and pleaded for an acquittal.

Government students increased their political lexicon as they attempted to complete their General Assembly projects. The project involved following a bill through the legislative process. Students viewed the General Assembly in action as part of the project's requirements.

. . . remain a captive in the round building and partake in a veritable feast of education.

Bringing literature to life, Paul Gettle and Shannon Cook re-enact a scene from Arms and the Man.

Not Just An Easy A

The family management course taught students how to live in a non-Beaver Cleaver world. Students learned how to plan a wedding, and then they were married in mock ceremonies held in the auditorium. Connie Taylor, a "mock," bride said:

> I married Frank Brown in the wedding, but we got a divorce after it was over!

The family management course was offered to seniors only; while, home economics was open to any student. The home economics classes held a Child Observation Day. Teachers brought their children to school for the classes to entertain. The classes also competed in the Cake Bakeoff.

Other students learned skills in industrial arts and photography. The industrial arts students used their skills to make a toy box for the Christmas Adopt-A-Family Program. Mrs. Catherine Robertson, the photography teacher, said, "I was impressed with the talent of the photography students!"

Art classes were also a popular elective. Karla Farrar commented, "Art was fun; it wasn't just an easy "A." In fact, it wasn't easy."

Unbeatable Spirit

The freshmen have traditionally been the largest class; this year was no exception. Over 500 freshmen entered Manchester, making the student body too large to hold pep rallies. Even with the absence of pep rallies, Lancer spirit prevailed.

Freshmen involvement was the key. For example, Scott Bratcher played on the Varsity football team and Kristen Mancini and Karen Young had parts in Pure as the Driven Snow.

Also working to preserve school spirit was the sophomore class. They won first place for their Homecoming float. Novice debaters Larry Harmon and Elizabeth Howe placed second at the Wake Forest National Debate Tournament.

Explaining an unusual distinction of the junior class, Jonathan Shipley said, "We were the only class to be sophomores last year." For most juniors the highlight of the year was winning Powderpuff.

Despite an early epidemic of "Senioritis", the senior class showed enthusiasm for their school. This enthusiasm was translated into a party mood. As class poet Slam Duncan said, "We are the party class, because we are the only ones who know how." Particular seniors had reason to celebrate. For example, Paul Collins was named to the first team of the State football team.

Student involvement was strengthened by the presence of faculty members at school events. The faculty and students worked together to create Good Vibrations.

Defining Terms

We realized that our past as underclassmen had made us Seniors, and we were proud of that past. Our years presented a challenge that will be hard for our future years to meet. We have gained as we have given. Our earlier years have given us the definitions we sought:

As Freshmen we came,
As Sophomores we grew,
As Juniors we learned,
As Seniors we Knew!

For Kicks

Although the powderpuff game was a bit disappointing, the senior cheerleaders managed to keep their spirit high. The cheerleaders were led by captains Ricky Morgan and Aaron Glauser. The squad, put together with the help of cheerleaders Beth Schaefer, Shannon Smith, and Jackie Walker, were classy enough to outdo Dallas.

"Although our girls lost, our squad was definitely hot," stated Ricky Morgan. "Cheerleading was great. I got asked out three times." said Aaron Glauser.

Topping off the evening, senior cheerleaders attempt to build a pyramid.

Pair-A-Dice

Most classes represented the theme "Almost Paradise" with tropical scenes, but the Seniors took a different approach. The float was modeled after a casino with dice and a roulette wheel, portraying the title "Seniors Roll With The Lancers." Most of the construction took place at Beth Schafer's house.

Many Seniors rode the float and did their best to show their spirit. Kelly Harvey said, "Even though we didn't win, we had a lot of spirit and a good time."

Seniors "roll" at Homecoming. Kelly Harvey, Craig Woodson, Shari Fruehbrodt, Donna Johnston, and Howard Halverson ride the float.

"Hand me that tape, please." Beth Schaefer pleads with Jeff Tarkington.

Diversity

Elizabeth Bilyeu, Michele Duffie, Nikki Newman, Barbara Palmer, and Jacquelyn Walker were chosen as Senior Class princesses. These girls represent the variety of talent the Senior Class possesses. Elizabeth Bilyeu lettered in field hockey; while, Michele Duffie starred in both Drama plays. Nikki Newman was a member of the Madrigals choir, Barbara Palmer was Senior Class Secretary and Jacquelyn Walker was a varsity cheerleader. "We proved that our class recognizes each individual's ability," stated Elizabeth Bilyeu.

Sitting Pretty! Barbara Palmer participates in the Homecoming Parade.

Demonstrating her diligence, Elizabeth Bilyeu works on an SCA project.

All smiles, Michele Duffie rides in Allan Todd's Fiat.

Organizers

Many of the activities that dominate a Senior's last year are organized by their class officers. These activities include, Graduation, Senior Assembly, and the Senior Banquet. The other officers included Kelly Robinson — Vice-President, Barbara Palmer — Secretary, Richard Morgan — Treasurer, and Pam Johnson — Chaplain. "I really liked being a class officer," stated Barbara Palmer, "it has been an experience that I will never forget."

Sibling Support

Many Seniors and their younger siblings shared the same sports interests. Lisa Stevenson and her sister Laura played on the softball teams, while Elizabeth and Laura Bilyeu played field hockey together. Likewise, Jeff and Doug Zehner were both on the golf team and Jamie Wallace and his brother Jason were members of the wrestling team.

Road Trips

Seniors saw America, some even saw Canada. Road trips were a popular senior weekend activity. Tim Turner visited Boston, Virginia Tech, and Daytona. Tim Padgett also went to Boston and Daytona; in addition, he traveled to Canada and Detroit with Gee Owens. Numerous seniors visited colleges. Noelle Reese said, "After my road trip to Virginia Tech, I'm ready for college." Tim Padgett added, "Road trips are my vice; Myrtle Vice, Daytona Vice, Detroit Vice. It's all the same to me."

Preparing for a weekend trip, Michele Feeback, Scott Duncan and Sharon Webb pose to capture memories.

Fitting Occasion

Seniors got a taste of graduation as they received their caps and gowns in April. With only two months 'till graduation, Seniors waited in line to receive the long anticipated official graduation garments. Seniors could be found throughout the day exchanging name cards and wearing their caps and gowns. Lisa Stevenson stated, "Receiving our caps and gowns just made us realize how close to graduation we really were. It was sad and exciting at the same time."

Looking over their garments, Nikki Newman and Julia Morris receive their caps and gowns.

Surfin' MHS

Even though the thermometer registered on thirty degrees, the senior class celebrated Beach Day in full summer attire. Seniors knocked underclassmen over as they maneuvered the crowded halls with coolers and beach balls. A few less brave seniors opted for long-johns under their shorts and bathing suits. The smell of zinc oxide and suntan lotion permeated the school as seniors dreamed of spring break and beach week after graduation. Ricky Morgan said, "Kick it up high for senior beach day."

Triple Crown

Hard work and perserverence paid off for the nine senior varsity debaters with three state championships. Other awards were won at Wake Forest University, JMU, Longwood, Hamden-Sydney, and Randolph Macon. Senior debaters were Scott Duncan, Michele Feeback, Jody Hobbs, Tim Padgett, Noelle Reese, Lisa Stevenson, Sharon Webb, and Kelly Robinson. Coach Mike Wildasin also fielded two national teams at NFL Qualifiters. Michele Feeback expressed the importance of debate to her, "Debate has helped me to speak confidently and to present organized ideas."

What's Hot What's Not

Few items were unpopular with seniors, as the class of 1986 took on an "anything goes" attitude. Seniors set trends in eyeglass wear, clothing, earrings, classes and even school supplies. Back-paks, rock t-shirts, study hall and the comfortable look dominated the class. Scott Duncan commented "I'll dress how I please and you'll like it!"

Displaying his "Lords" poster, Tim Turner proved that rock concerts were popular among seniors.

Ringing In The Year

With class rings on their fingers, the junior class welcomed the title of upperclassmen. With the junior title came harder classes and part-time jobs for many. As Steve Davis said, "It was pretty hard working two jobs and keeping up with hard classes."

Tough schedules did not stop the juniors from winning Powderpuff or participating in sports and clubs. Beverly Ross was second team All-District for Varsity Basketball, while Eric "Ice" Barfield received an honorable mention. Two juniors held SCA offices: Todd Early served as treasurer and Michelle Rudd was the historian/reporter.

The main purpose of the year remained preparing for becoming seniors. According to Wayne Lee, "I'm psyched for a 'bogus' senior year!"

Sideline Support

Chanting, "Juniors Dominate!", the Junior Powderpuff cheerleaders led the girls on to a 7-0 victory over the Seniors.

The cheerleaders also entertained the crowd with their antics. Sophomore Danny Canfield said, "The junior cheerleaders were great! It was really funny when they started break-dancing."

The cheerleaders wore the traditionally popular mini-skirts, wigs, make-up, and, of course, balloons. David Klisz said, "It was fun dressing up for powderpuff, but I'm glad I'm not a girl. I had a little trouble with the eye shadow."

The powderpuff cheerleaders agreed that their greatest accomplishment for the evening was building a pyramid. Brad Nunnely said, "I can't believe that we made a pyramid. I guess all of the practices paid off."

The regular cheering squad taught the guys stunts and cheers. Cheerleader Kelly Gallagher said, "The guys caught on quickly to the cheers. They really helped the girls win the game."

While attempting a pyramid, some of the cheerleaders ended up on the ground instead of on top.

Princess For A Night

Nancy Ames and Kelly Gallagher were the junior princesses who represented their class. Nancy, a three year Homecoming court veteran, represented her class as vice-president and played varsity basketball and tennis.

For Kelly though, this was a new and exciting experience. When asked how she felt when she found out she had been selected for the first time, she said, "My first thought was how proud I was going to be to have my father escort me out on the football field." Kelly was also on the varsity cheering squad and worked at an orthodontist office.

The whole junior class had the opportunity to participate in the Homecoming festivities by working on the float. The float depicted the theme "Almost Paradise" with a surfing scene. The hard work put into the float paid off; the junior class received second place in the float competiton.

Officers Work Towards Prom

With Prom and rings heading up the list, the junior class officers had their work cut out for them. The officers were Robin Gaines, President; Nancy Ames, Vice-President; Elizabeth Schmick, Secretary; and Meredith Taylor, Treasurer. Robin commented on the best part of her presidency, " . . . organizing the Prom because everyone gets so involved." Robin was also Vice President of the French Club, participant of Varsity basketball, and was Captain of the Junior Powderpuff team.

The officers were well prepared this year. By February, they had already ordered everything for the Prom, had Excalibur lined up to play, and decided to hold the Prom at Bellwood Officers Club. Junior class sponsor, Mrs. Rosemary League commented:

> They're a real enthusiastic group and they've worked very hard.

Resting during a time-out, Robin Gaines contemplates the next play of Powderpuff.

A Lancer's Life

Jean Bergeron — On the Move

Jean Bergeron has made the most out of high school by being involved in a variety of activities. For instance, she is a member of the field hockey and tennis teams. She is also involved in S.O.D.A.

Jean has played field hockey since she was a freshman, and she has been the starting sweeper for two years. Jean said, "I like playing sweeper, because it's an important position. The sweeper is the last defensive player before the goalie." Jean was named to the All-District and All-Regional first teams in field hockey. She was also named Best Defensive Player this year and has lettered twice in field hockey.

She has also received two varsity letters in tennis. Because tennis will become a fall sport next year, she will have to choose between playing field hockey and playing tennis. Jean commented, "I won't play tennis over field hockey. I like them both, but I've played field hockey longer."

Jean's interest in children led to her involvement in S.O.D.A., as she said, "I enjoy working with kids and I feel that I can communicate well with them." Jean hopes to use this ability in her future career. She said, "I'd love to be a pediatrician, but I faint when I see blood. I'm hoping to become a physical therapist, and work in a children's hospital."

Wagons Outvoted

Getting your driver's license was supposed to mean one thing: freedom. Many sophomores found that such is not the case; when you don't have a car to drive, you still don't have freedom. Other sophomores found that they couldn't be as cool as they wanted to be as they drove Mom's station wagon.

Sophomores wished for their dream car. Heath Williamson said, "If I could have any car, it would definitely be a black Porche 954."

Other sophomores wished for Lambergenis, while Lori Blasioli said, "I'd like a 1960 convertible Corvette, but anything beats a station wagon."

Roasting Devils Take 1st Place

Creativity and hard work proved to be the winning combination for the sophomore class float. "Roast The Blue Devils" was the theme chosen by members of the float committee. The back drop was of a sunset on a tropical island, and there was a blue devil being roasted. For extra support of the theme, orange and blue balloons were released. Spirit was abundant as the judges announced the Sophomores' victory.

During halftime two J.V. Cheerleaders, Kathy Ford and Lisa Holland, were announced as Sophomore Princesses. Kathy was escorted by her father, Mr. Ben Ford, and Lisa by her father, Mr. Griffin Holland.

"I was very excited to have been chosen!" commented Kathy. Lisa stated, "I was very honored to have been chosen for the second year by my classmates!"

Smiling for the crowd, Princess Kathy Ford steps onto the field.

McCarthy Leads Class

Mug-O-Nuts Sale is a Success

"Our goal is to be the most spirited, to interact and represent the sophomore class better." commented Class President Todd McCarthy.

Todd was supported by the other officers: Gary Steele as Vice President, Amy Austin as Treasurer, and Lisa Tignor as Secretary.

The officers began the year by building the Homecoming float and organizing the mug-o-nuts fund raiser. The officers were also responsible for co-organizing the class ring orders.

Lisa Tignor added, "Our hard work has paid off. We won the float competition, and we made over $2000 with the mug-o-nuts!"

With help from sponsors Mrs. Beth Saxon and Mrs. Marty Wiedeman, the class sponsored needy families during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays by giving food and toys.

Amy commented, "I'm really glad we could help. It really feels great to help people that are less fortunate!"

Missing Mugs must be found. Mrs. Marty Wiedeman takes inventory of the mug-o-nut shipment as the class officers unpack.

Chorus Members Form Band

Bobby Massey and Sheri Blanks started a band with some students from St. Edwards School called "That Was Then." Both sing, but Sheri plays rhythm guitar and Bobby plays keyboards.

The group practices approximately 8 to 10 hours a week and debuted at St. Gertrudes homecoming.

Both Bobby and Sheri are honors students and participate in chorus. Bobby is in Capital Swing and Sheri sings in Lance Singers.

Said Sheri, "I hope we'll have a demo out soon and that we'll have at least four songs on it! Hopefully we'll get some airplay on U of R's station, WDCE, too!"

"I think we have the potential to become one of Richmond's hottest young bands, and we all hope that we can achieve this goal," continued Bobby.

Dancing is More Than a Hobby

Diane Hair and Diane Bennett, two Lancerettes, took dance lessons together at Dinty's School of Dance. The girls took tap, ballet, jazz, and toe. Diane Hair prefers jazz, while Diane Bennett likes both tap and toe.

"I love to go to New York each summer. We all have fun learning from the many professionals, and I think it helps me with Lancerettes," commented Diane Bennett.

Diane Hair added, "I have been dancing for fourteen years, and just love it. I think because I only dance two days a week, I'll never get sick of it."

Two other Sophomores, Melissa Buchanan and Kathy Ford, danced at Martinques School of Dance. They also take toe, jazz, ballet, and tap. Melissa likes ballet and toe best because they help her with the other dances, while Kathy prefers jazz and ballet.

Kathy joked, "I started dancing eight years ago because my mother thought I would overcome my shyness!"

"I have been dancing for the past six years. This year I performed the lead in The Night Before Christmas at the Chesterfield Performing Arts Company called Spirit of Christmas. I really had fun and I loved doing it!" commented Melissa.

Waiting to perform at half-time, Lancerette Diane Hair watches a home basketball game.

Change Of Pace

Over 500 freshmen began their high school careers. They became involved in language clubs, sports, and other activities.

"I like it much better than middle school; you get more freedom here. Teachers don't watch over you and treat you like little kids." — Bruce Myers.

"It was about time for a change; Manchester gave me a chance to see new surroundings and meet new people. It was a change I enjoyed, but I sure wouldn't want to have to do it again." — Amy Callahan

"I really enjoy Manchester. It's been fun and exciting this year." — Kristen Rozum.

"I enjoyed entering high school this year; it was like starting school all over again. I met new people and did new things, which were all better than what I did in middle school." — Steven Cooter.

Warm Welcome

On August 21st the rising freshman class received their first taste of their next four years of high school. Orientation included a speech by Mr. David Jones concerning student responsibilities, regulations, and possible parental involvement in the Athletic Boosters. He offered a warm welcome — very warm, considering the 98° temperature. Also speaking was Elizabeth Bilyeu, the Student Cooperative Association President, who conveyed the importance of student involvement.

Orientation night calmed the anxieties of some students allowing them to become acquainted with their new surroundings. Jinger Laymon said, "I was unsure about high school at first, but now I think these will be my best school years. Having a chance to look over Manchester beforehand helped me a lot!"

Tuning in to high school life, freshmen Morgan Dean and Chip Murdock purchase records at orientation.

Esprit de Corps

"When we're performing in front of the crowds, it gives us a feeling of accomplishment — like all of our hard work has paid off," remarked Michelle Vestal, one of the four freshman majorettes. After years of practices and performances in the Royalettes Baton Corps and Band, Kristin Turner, Sonja Pendleton, Christy Walker, and Michelle Vestal were "extremely excited" about becoming a part of the squad.

"We've learned that we need to have a positive attitude. We also need to have the ability to work with others and to take constructive criticism," said Kristin.

All of them would like to continue majorettes throughout high school and have thought of college performing. "I want to make my skills last as long as possible. I think we all do!" replied Michelle.

Concentrating on her routine, Michelle Vestal performs with the Marching Lancers.

Bama Bound?

"Playing Varsity Football was a real privilege." commented Scott Bratcher, the only Freshman on the team.

Scott started playing football at the age of 6 and has strived for excellence ever since. "When I first saw it on T.V., I knew I wanted to play."

Besides football Scott plays baseball and basketball. "I would like to have basketball as a major sport, but I don't want to be compared to my older brother, Chris." Chris Bratcher was a former Manchester basketball star who graduated in 1985.

Scott does admit that having Chris as an older brother has helped him establish himself, but he has had to build up his own reputation. Moreover, he feels that thanks to the "excellent" coaching of Coach Jarvis, he will play football after high school. He hopes to get a scholarship to the University of Alabama and then maybe go on to play professional football.

Preparing to visit J.V. Basketball Coach Jim Levesay, Scott Bratcher enters the P.E. Workroom.

Royal Confusion

Kim Rudd and Sonja Pendleton were elected as homecoming princesses to represent the freshman class. Both girls felt it was a special experience, and they were proud to represent their class.

Sonja, a majorette and a member of the Lance Singers, remarked, "I was surprised when I heard that I had won." Kim was the freshman class treasurer and the manager of the indoor and outdoor track teams. "I was happy and excited when I found out that I'd won," said Kim.

"I was really nervous because I was the first one on the field. I didn't know what to do when the announcer called Kim's name instead of mine. I just stood there. After they got my name right, my dad started walking the wrong way," commented Sonja.

"I was luckier than Sonja because everything went smoothly and made that night a very memorable one for me. I noticed my older sister taking pictures which made me feel very special," added Kim.

Standing proudly, Kim Rudd is escorted by her father, Mr. Wilmer Rudd.

Playing Candyland

Freshmen Start Early

The freshman class officers had the responsibility of leading the largest class. According to Stacy Palmer, the class vice president, "Even though there were over 500 people in our class, I think we were all pretty close."

The officers organized the fundraiser. The class made about $2,000 by selling candy. Kim Rudd, treasurer of the class, commented, "The profit will go towards prom and graduation. We wanted to start early so we can give a great prom!"

Study for a geometry test, Stacy Palmer waits for the bell to ring.

Growing Larger

With the addition of about twenty new teachers, the faculty experienced a great increase in size. The administration also underwent changes: Social Studies Department Head Mr. Cliffton Johnson became an Assistant Principal as did a new faculty member, Mr. Jeffrey Baughman. According to Mrs. Robin Wallmeyer, "If we get many more new teachers, we're going to need more classrooms!"

The addition of new faculty members strengthened school spirit. Four new faculty members, Janet Clark, Gabriel Pascarella, and Dave Wyncoop, volunteered to chaperone the Homecoming Dance. The new teachers joined in with the others to provide an atmosphere condusive to both learning and fun.

Vote of Confidence

Mr. Wildasin: Teacher of the Year

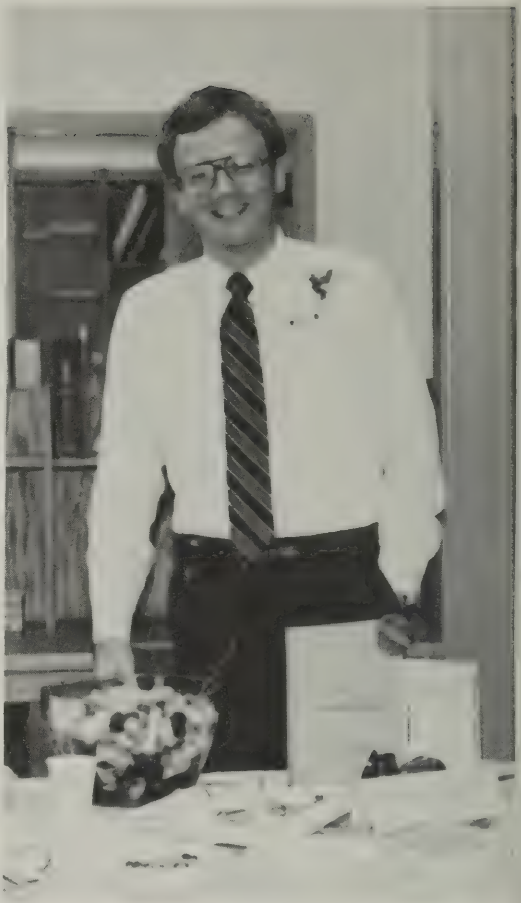
Traditionally, faculty members vote for "Teacher of the Year." Mr. Michael Wildasin was chosen. When asked why he became a teacher, he replied, "Perhaps the better question would be to ask why I continue to teach. The answer would have to be because teaching presents a challenge I have yet to master." He went on to comment that,

> "After teaching nine years, I recognize ever more clearly the importance of what we teachers do, and I remain determined to challenge my students as they challenge me."

Mr. Wildasin teaches government and debate. Though he has never debated, his debate teams have placed in the States for the past two years.

When asked how he felt about Mr. Wildasin's teaching styles Johnathan Shipley replied, "I like the way he teaches students as humans, not as numbers. Johnathan Shipley is one of the many "double dippers" who have Mr. Wildasin for both debate and government.

Because of the respect Mr. Wildasin shows for his classes, they weren't surprised when he was chosen Teacher of the Year. If his students weren't astonished, he sure was: "I was surprised and immensely pleased by this vote of confidence. That it came from my collegues makes the honor even more significant."



Standing red-faced and embarrassed, Mr. Mike Wildasin accepts his award.

TEE-chers

"Project TEE was designed to help us improve on our teaching skills, and I personally think it helps," stated Mrs. Lillian Flory when asked about Project TEE and its' effects.

Project TEE is a course in which all Chesterfield County teachers had to participate. In this course teachers observed each other and acted as "coaches" in achieving certain skills.

Mrs. Shirley Rash and Joan Dunkum collaborated on arranging our chapter of Project TEE. Mrs. Rash commented that, "I am glad to have had the opportunity to help in a project like this."

Joan Dunkum said, "I think that every teacher should partake in a course such as this at least once, because it really improves your teaching skills."

Discussing a project idea, Mrs. Joan Dunkum and Mrs. Shirley Rash look over the TEE manual.

Good Vibrations

Sports

Reason To Celebrate

Athletics proved to be an important part of student life. Those students who did not participate by playing on a team could be seen at the games cheering the team to victory.

Victory came to the field hockey team as they again claimed the Dominion District Title.

Led by seniors John Ferguson, Wes Self, and Jeff Zehner, the golf team also captured the District Championship.

The football team had a successful season under the leadership of Darryl Thompson and Paul Collins. Darryl was named to the All-State football team. When Paul received a football scholarship to the University of Virginia and Darryl received a James Madison scholarship, students celebrated knowing that they could continue to see them play football in the future.

The wrestling team was also competitive in the State; Paul Pavey finished seventh in the State Wrestling Meet.

The gymnastics team placed second at the Dominion District Meet. A freshman, Kim Cyrus, placed sixth on the uneven bars. Senior Suzi Rozum took an overall fifth place.

Victory was not the only reason for celebration. The boys basketball team had a tough season, losing close games; yet, this did not deter student support for the team. Sports brought the student body together as they unconditionally rooted for the Lancer teams. The student unity felt during the games was reason for celebrating Good Vibrations.

Desire To Win

"Its 'never-quit' attitude and desire to win made the Varsity Football team a memorable squad," commented Coach Billy Jarvis. "The Seniors united to give great leadership and helped to overcome some of the adversity that faced them during the season," replied Coach Jarvis. Paul Collins added, "I'm proud to have played under Coach Jarvis. Hard work is what he wanted and hard work is what he got." With a 7-3 record, the Lancers finished second in the Dominion District.

The Lancers toughest game of the season was the loss at L.C. Bird. That night the Lancers were playing in three inch deep mud and a driving rain. The Skyhawks were up 15-8 with about twenty seconds to play. The Lancers scored as the clock ran out. The score, 14-15, Bird; the Lancers chose to run the conversion. The pass was made, but slipped through the hands of William Smith. The ball was too slippery to hold. The Lancers had lost not only the game but the District title. When Coach Jarvis was asked why he did not go with the sure kick and tie the game, he replied, "We wanted to win, there was not going to be a tie; we took the risk, but we played a fine game."

Barry Braxton, Darryl Thompson, Paul Collins, and Jeff Baldwin made First All District Team while William Smith and Jeff Wilkinson received Honorable Mentions. Darryl and Paul were also selected for First Team All Region, and Barry and Jeff Baldwin were chosen for the Second all Regional Team. Making the First Team All State was Paul and the Second Team honors went to Darryl. Paul and Darryl were also selected to be on the First and Second Teams All-Metro respectively.

"Although we had the same record as last year, I felt we had an excellent season." commented Senior Darryl Thompson. Jeff Baldwin added, "After losing a lot of Seniors last year, no one thought we could contend for the District title; but I think we proved a lot to a lot of people."

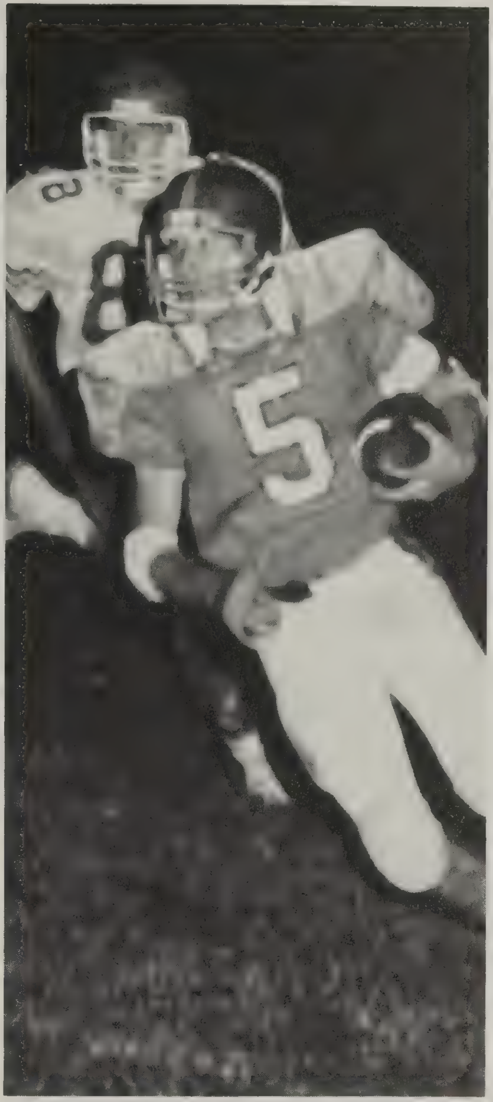
Breaking up the field, William Smith charges full speed ahead into the defense of the Matoaca Warriors.



Rounding the bend, Jeff Baldwin intercepts the ball on the ten yard line and carries it toward the Lancer goal.

Clearing a path, Senior Barry Braxton makes way for his team mates to make the score.

Pushing the guy to the ground, Sophomore Greg Hamill makes sure that this player will be no danger to the Lancers play.

Tough Season

"Most of the games we lost, we were only behind by a few points which was good," commented Sophomore Eric Estrada. He added, "It seemed like when the opposing team scored on us first, we automatically lost because we were down on ourselves." The Junior Varsity team completed the season with a 2-5-1 record.

The Lancers shut out Varina, 18-0, and beat Midlothian, 18-3. In all of the games in which the team was defeated, excluding one, they did not lose by more than one touchdown. Freshmen Kent Carson remarked, "I think we had a good season, it was a little tough but I feel that we learned a lot. I am looking forward to an even better season next year."

Carrying on despite the actions of his opponent, Chris Tapscott moves the ball down the field.

End of An Era

"When our team first started practicing, a lot of us thought that we had lost all of the talent on the team," stated Theresa Brisby. She added, "We didn't think our team was going to be strong, but with our many talents, potential, and different personalities, we proved we were a valuable team to the Lancer program."

The Lancers finished fourth in the Dominion District with a district recrod fof 11-5 and 14-8 overall. Senior LaVera Hairston was the Most Valuable player and the leading scorer. LaVera was also selected for the First Team All-District and Honorable Mention All-Region. Junior Robin Gaines was the team's leading rebounder and was chosen for the Second Team All-District. Cindy Burton received the Hustle Award.

Since this is the last year the Lancers will be in the AA Division, this season concluded an era in two ways. The Lady Lancers will no longer be in the Dominion District, and Coach Charlie Smith will no longer be coaching them. LaVera Hairston reflected her feelings on the Coach's resignation, "Although Charlie Smith is not coaching the Girl's Basketball team next year, he will be well-remembered. He was a great asset to the Manchester girls' team and we never could have done it without him!"

Grabbing the rebound, Junior Robin Gaines dominates her opponent by seizing control of the loose ball.

Looking for the open man, Tracie Thornton searches desperately to find someone to pass to.

Hard Work Pays Off

Putting a stop to Monacan's winning streak of two years by defeating them 30-23, the Junior Varsity girls ended their season with a record of 11 wins and 3 losses. "This was the best display of effort and hustle that I have seen from a J.V. team," commented Coach Robin Goff. "When one person wasn't playing up to par, there was another one to pick up the slack."

"At the beginning of the season, I didn't think that we were going to do very well. We lost to Midlothian twice, and that was very discouraging because we wanted to win so badly," admitted co-captain Holly Ford, "but we pulled together and practiced hard, and the time paid off much better than I had expected."

Three Freshmen were given special recognition: Susan Ferrel for Best Defense; Tammy Pond for Best Offense; and Julie Herr as Most Improved. As Miss Goff said, "The whole team worked hard, and our record proved it."

Aw come on!, Coach Robin Goff cannot believe the call that the referees have made against her team.

Making the off balance shot, Tammy Pond moves into the lane to score an easy two points.

Smiles of Victory, are expressed by Paula Byrne, Rachel Young, and Andrea Feeback on their hard fought win.

New Talent Wins

After losing so many starters from last year's Regional Championship team, no one expected the Field Hockey team to do as well as it did. Only three of eleven were returning starters, and only two of the three stayed in the same position. "It was a nice surprise to see so many 'unseasoned' players develop into such a strong team," commented Coach Robyn Wallmeyer.

"Our most important game was probably the last regular season game against Midlothian. We were 7-0 in the District up to that point, and a win would have given us our first undefeated season since the team started in 1980. Playing Midlothian is always important to the girls because of the rivalry between the two." Manchester lost 0-1; but, this being its only regular season defeat, the team still took the Dominion District Championship.

For the second year in a row, the Field Hockey team participated in the Tabb Invitational Tournament. Losing to Tabb by only one penalty stroke, the girls placed fourth. Co-Captain Elizabeth Bilyeu said, "We did as well as we did last year. We had new talent, so we figured we'd have a rebuilding year. However, our exceptional playing in the tournament foreshadowed our winning season and District Championship."

Receiving recognition for outstanding defense was Junior Jean Bergeron and for outstanding offense, Senior Joanne Craig and sophomore Rachel Young. Elizabeth Bilyeu, Co-Captain, received the award for Most Dedicated Player; and Suzi Rozum, Co-Captain, was Most Valuable Player.

This year's team also set some new school records. Paula Byrne tied the record for most goals in a season with 6. Most saves in a career was set by Joanne Craig with eleven from 1982 to 1985. Laura Bilyeu set two new records; one for the most saves in a game, now 10; and the other being the most saves in a season, now 72.

Improvements By All

With a new coach and the loss of five senior runners, the team knew they had a tough season ahead of them. The team started with only eight boys; but at the beginning of the school year, they had the addition of three more boys and four girls. After losing the first two meets, the team pulled together and ended the season with a 5-5 record.

"Our best meet was probably the William and Mary meet in which everybody that went set their own personal records," commented Senior Howard Halvorsen. He added, "Our hardest was the District meet because everybody was either extremely tired, ill, or mildly injured." The team placed Sixth in the Dominion District meet.

Todd Early was the Most Valuable Player and was also selected as Athlete of the Week. "The season was basically a rebuilding time for the years to come. Every runner improved his or her time by at least twenty seconds," remarked Todd. Sandy Bosher sums it up by adding, "Cross Country was harder this year because the other teams had grown stronger, but we pulled through and had fun!"

Giving the thumbs up, Todd Weaver and Chris Mann let everyone know that they will somehow finish this run with no problem.

Pacing her strides, Sandy Bosher plans out her speed for the end of the run.

Wins Build Confidence

"Our season did not hold great promise at the beginning with the loss of three Seniors from our State Championship team," commented Wes Self, "but we became more confident with every win." Ending the season with a 15-1 record showed that the team was better than they had expected to be. "Nobody thought we could win, but we proved them all wrong by winning the District Title," stated Jeff Zehner who, during the regular season, shot a hole-in-one at the Meadowbrook Country Club. Jeff was also named the most valuable player of the team.

For the second year in a row, the Lancer Golf team was the District Champion. "We worked hard and had the talent to have another season like last year's, but it is awful hard to repeat a State Championship," remarked Senior John Ferguson.

John and Wes were given the Coaches Award from Coach Lloyd Swelnis. Wes also received the honor of being Athlete Of the Week. Sophomore Doug Zehner was the team's Most Improved Player. Wes said, "We matured as individuals and competitors," and Jeff Zehner added, "we didn't really have the best team on paper, but we fought hard, played competitively, and won when we had to." "How many teams can say they have done what we have?" commented John.

Moving Ahead As Season Progressed

After a 1 win 6 loss start at the Christmas break, the Varsity Boys' Basketball team finished with a 9 win 11 loss record and in sixth place in the Dominion District. "This year was very rewarding because we were able to finish strong after a so-so start." commented Coach Charlie Smith.

The Lancers suffered many close defeats. They lost the first game to Matoaca in over time by 4 points at Matoaca; three games were lost by 2 points; and the team that went all the way to the Regional final, Varina, gave the Lancers their second loss of the season by 1 point. The team improved as the season progressed. Colonial Heights defeated the Lancers by 29 the first time and later by a basket from half-court just as the buzzer sounded. Some of the highlights were beating L.C. Bird twice — this is the tenth time in a row, defeating the Godwin Eagles by 2 in overtime on their court, and upsetting Clover Hill on its home court by 5 — thus giving the Lancers the "Basketball Bragging Rights" on Hull Street.

The Most Improved player award was given to two players — Senior forward Dean Johnson, who averaged 9 points a game and scored in double figures the last four games; and Junior guard Eric Barfield, who had 122 assists and alone scored 21 points in the last game of the regular season. Another Junior guard, Beverly Ross, received the Hustle Award and an Honorable Mention All-District. Beverly was the second leading rebounder with 133 rebounds. He also had 58 steals, 60 credits, and 62 assists. Kevin McDaniels, the Senior center, was the leading scorer in the Dominion District. Kevin was selected for the First team All-District and received an Honorable Mention All-Region. He was also the team's MVP averaging 9.5 rebounds and 17.5 points a game. Kevin commented, "We had a young team, and we didn't have the kind of season we wanted, but we played hard and had fun."

Towering above all the rest, Junior Beverly Ross puts up a jump spot even though his shoes are untied and his opponent is trying to annoy him.

Playing Hard To Win

Ending the season with a 13 win 7 loss record, the Junior Varsity Basketball team tied for third place in the district. "Although we lost a few talented players at the beginning of the season, the freshmen players made up for the loss. It was a great season, and I would play anywhere under Coach Jimmy Livesay," Sophomore Mark Sanger commented enthusiastically. Mike Davis added, "We had an excellent team and an excellent Coach. We tried our best."

The J.V. players lost in overtime by 2 points to the Knights of Thomas Dale at Thomas Dale. The Lancers suffered another tough loss on their home court to the Godwin Eagles at the buzzer by just 1 point. According to Coach Jimmy Livesay, "The last game of the season showed everyone, including ourselves, just how hard we could play. It was a fine season." Although the Lancers lost to Meadowbrook, 47-54, it was an exciting game and there was a great deal of fan support.

The Most Valuable Player award was received by Mark Sanger, who averaged 10 points and 7 rebounds per game. The Coach's Award went to Dan Canfield and the Most Improved turned out to be Darryl DeBerry.

New Coaches Prove To Be Tough

A new younger Coach took over the Wrestling team this year. Coach Richard Munroe and his assistant, Coach Robert Hetrick, decided to take on the challenge of handling the Manchester wrestlers. Senior Craig Woodson commented, "I was not sure what the new Coach would be like, but he was a tough coach and he really made us work."

The Lancers ended the season with a 4 win 5 loss record in the Dominion District and 7 win 8 loss record overall. Craig Woodson added, "Our season started out a little slow. Then the younger guys started to understand fully what they were doing, and the team's record began to improve. Wrestlers like Mark Bond, Matt Houch, Harold Carrol, and Trevor Dodson improved upon their wrestling techniques and proved to be valuable members of the team. The Lancers concluded the season with a seventh place finish in the district.

Senior Paul Pavey concluded his final year as a high school wrestler with a first place title in the Dominion District and a first place title in the region in his weight class. From the Coaches, Paul received the Outstanding Wrestling Award. Craig Woodson, Jasson Minadakis, Scott Crews, and Jason Wallace each finished fourth in the district in their respective weight classes. Some of the other awards given were the Outstanding Underclassman Award honoring Matt Houch and the Coach's Award given to Scott Crews.

First Time Experience

Advancing to Regionals

Having a new coach made it different for the Gymnastics team. Coach Mark White led the girls to an extended "excellent" season.

The girls ended the regular season with a 4 win 4 loss record. The team also went to the Collegiate Invitational where they finished third with 79.60 points out of the eight teams that competed. The highlight of the season was taking second place in the Dominion District Meet with 83.55 points, thus qualifying for Regionals as a team. "Coming in second in districts was exciting because we went on to Regionals, which was a first time experience for most of us. I think everyone worked hard to make our season an excellent one," commented Junior Susanne Newell. At the Regional Meet, the Lady Lancers finished in fifth place with 86.95 points. Suzi Rozum, the team's MVP, concluded, "This year our team did much better than expected and better than the past years. It was a nice way to finish out my Senior year."

Doing Well For Team Goals

Although tennis is a sport in which each player works hard to win for himself, in high school, the individual must also do well for the team. The teams' efforts were shown when the boys had a 50-50 season with a record of 6 wins and 6 losses, and the girls had a winning season with a 5 win 4 loss record.

"Injuries and bad luck plagued the Boys' Team at the beginning of the season, but the team finished with 4 victories in the last six matches," stated Coach Richard Greenwood. He added, "The team was led by Junior Glenn Dubiel, Seniors Tommy Campbell, Scott Duncan, and Jeff Zehner, and Sophomores Gary Huff and Todd Weaver. Newcomers rounded off the team, and they also did well." Glenn Dubiel was selected for the All-District Team. Jeff Zehner and Scott Duncan jointly stated, "It's great going to matches knowing you're going to play the best you can, and we played well all season with the exception of some bad breaks."

"We had a good season considering that we played a lot of year round tennis players," commented Coach Robin Wallmeyer. "The best win the girls had was finally beating Meadowbrook 6 to 4." In the District Tournament, Jean Bergeron played singles and doubles with Kristin Marxen. The girls won their first matches, but were eliminated in the quarter finals. Junior Lori Trent was selected as the team's Most Improved Player, and Shannon Smith received the Coach's Award. Jean Bergeron was chosen as the team's Most Valuable Player with 11 wins out of 18 matches played. Sophomore Sheri Blanks said, "The tennis season went great for us this year. Everyone enjoyed working together and I'm sure the fall season will be just as good next year."

Perfect Season

By placing first in Dominion District Tournament and having a 12 win — 3 loss — 2 tie game record going into Regional play, the Varsity Soccer team had its best season ever. The Junior Varsity team had a "perfect season" also with a perfect winning record. They placed first in the District with a 10 win, no loss, and 2 ties record.

With a tough beginning to the season, the Varsity team showed their "all" to rise in the end. Under the coaching of Herb Roberts, the team was led to the number one spot in the District Tournament. "Over the past two years, Coach Robert's superior coaching ability has made the difference. He has helped pull us together when we were hurt by many injuries," commented Senior goalie David Christiansen. Keefe Raible added, "The biggest games of the season were beating Monacan in the Monacan Invitational and defeating Thomas Dale in the District Finals 1-0 on a goal scored by Jeff Tarkington on an assist by Aaron Glauser." The Lancers have won three tournaments: the Tabb and Monacan Invitationals and the Dominion District title. With the victory over Thoma Dale, the Lancers avenged an earlier game in which the Knights tied Manchester in the late inning. Coach Herb Roberts said, "Strong defense is the key to our victories." He also added that the senior leadership contributed to the winning Season. The First Team All-District Honors went to Darran Lee, David Christiansen, and Keefe Raible. Jeff Tarkington made Second team, and David Klisz and Aaron Glauser received Honorable Mentions.

The Junior Varsity team ended their season with a 10-0-2 record with 6 shut-outs, credited to Greg Mahan. The team was under the coaching of Lance Bowman. "In the beginning the team was a little shaky because it's my first year of coaching, but we pulled together for an undefeated season," Coach Lance Bowman stated. The team's co-captains were Eric Papendcorp and Mark Barrett. Melissa Kinnan stated, "This season was one of many firsts for the JV Soccer team. It was the first time there was a girl on the team and it was the first undefeated season — Ever!" She added, "I wouldn't have traded playing on the guys' team for anything, but I am really excited about having the girl's team next year."

New Program Added

"Softball made my Senior year. We had a few problems, but we stuck together as a team and had a great year," commented Lisa Stevenson. The Varsity girls finished with 10 wins and 6 losses in the Dominion District and with 12 wins — 6 losses overall, while the all-new Junior Varsity team concluded 1-13.

Two school records were broken this season: most RBI's by a team in a season, now standing at 160 and the most RBI's by an individual, set by Sarah Bailey with 29. Rachele Dagenhart received the Most Improved Award, The Coach's Award went to Carin Danekar, and Sonja Owens was honored with the Golden Glove Award. Clare Speno had the Highest Batting Average with a .545. Coach Robin Goff remarked, "The girls have worked extremely hard, and their success reflects their determination to work together and strive for the team's goals.

A new program was added this year with the formation of the Junior Varsity Softball team, the first in Manchester's history. Coach Jimmy Livesay commented, "This year was the first year for the J.V. program, and the girls had to make a big adjustment from slowpitch to fastpitch. Despite the record, the girls eventually made the adjustment and the results next year will prove it."

The Most Improved Player for the J.V. team was Elizabeth Johnson. Melinda Belcher got the Coach's Award. And, Freshman Linda Noel was the team's Most Valuable Player.

Senior Leadership Key to Success

"We had a good season while having a lot of fun. We did not let our problems beat us. We played as a team — not as individuals," commented Senior Third Baseman Jim Jenkins. With an 11 win — 7 loss overall record and a 9 win — 7 loss District record, the Varsity Baseball team ended its regular season in Sixth place in the Dominion District.

The Lancers started off with a 4 and 0 record before Spring Break. Coach Lin Spears said that he was happy for his team to have a perfect record, but "the tough part of the season is yet to come." In the first game of the season, the Lancers executed a rare triple play. They really needed that to put down the rally the L.C. Bird Skyhawks were trying to bring about. They stayed on top in that game 9 to 8. The Varsity guys beat Douglas Freeman, a team that is not in the Dominion District, twice by a score of 8 to 6. These games were very close until the last out. At Freeman, the Lancers had to put down another rally, and they did it with strong defense and quick thinking on the part of the infielders. The longest game of the season was the Lancers' second meeting with the Varina Blue Devils. This game lasted a tiring three hours. The Blue Devils were ahead the entire game, but the Lancers put their lead in jeopardy several times. Varina ended winning by eight runs, but that was because of sheer-exhaustion. The last game of the season was played on the Lancers' home field in the pouring, cold rain against the visiting Cavaliers of Clover Hill. The Lancers shut the Cavaliers out 3 to 0 in these adverse conditions. With this win under their belts, the Varsity Baseball players were psyched to play Thomas Dale in the First Round of the Dominion District Tournament, which the Lancers had to play on the Knight's field.

Senior Jim Jenkins set a school record by having a hit in 18 consecutive games — a hit in every game of the regular season. Jim's batting average is .538. Mike Spear also set a school record for the Most Runs Batted In, which now stands at twenty-five. Mike and Jim were also selected as the team's Honorary Co-Captians. Whenever the Lancers were down, if one of these two came to the plate, the entire team and the fans got fired up. In one game, Jim had three triples and Mike hit several homeruns during the year.

Junior Bill Gillette received the Most Improved Player Award, while Senior Mike Spear was chosen as the team's Most Valuable Player.

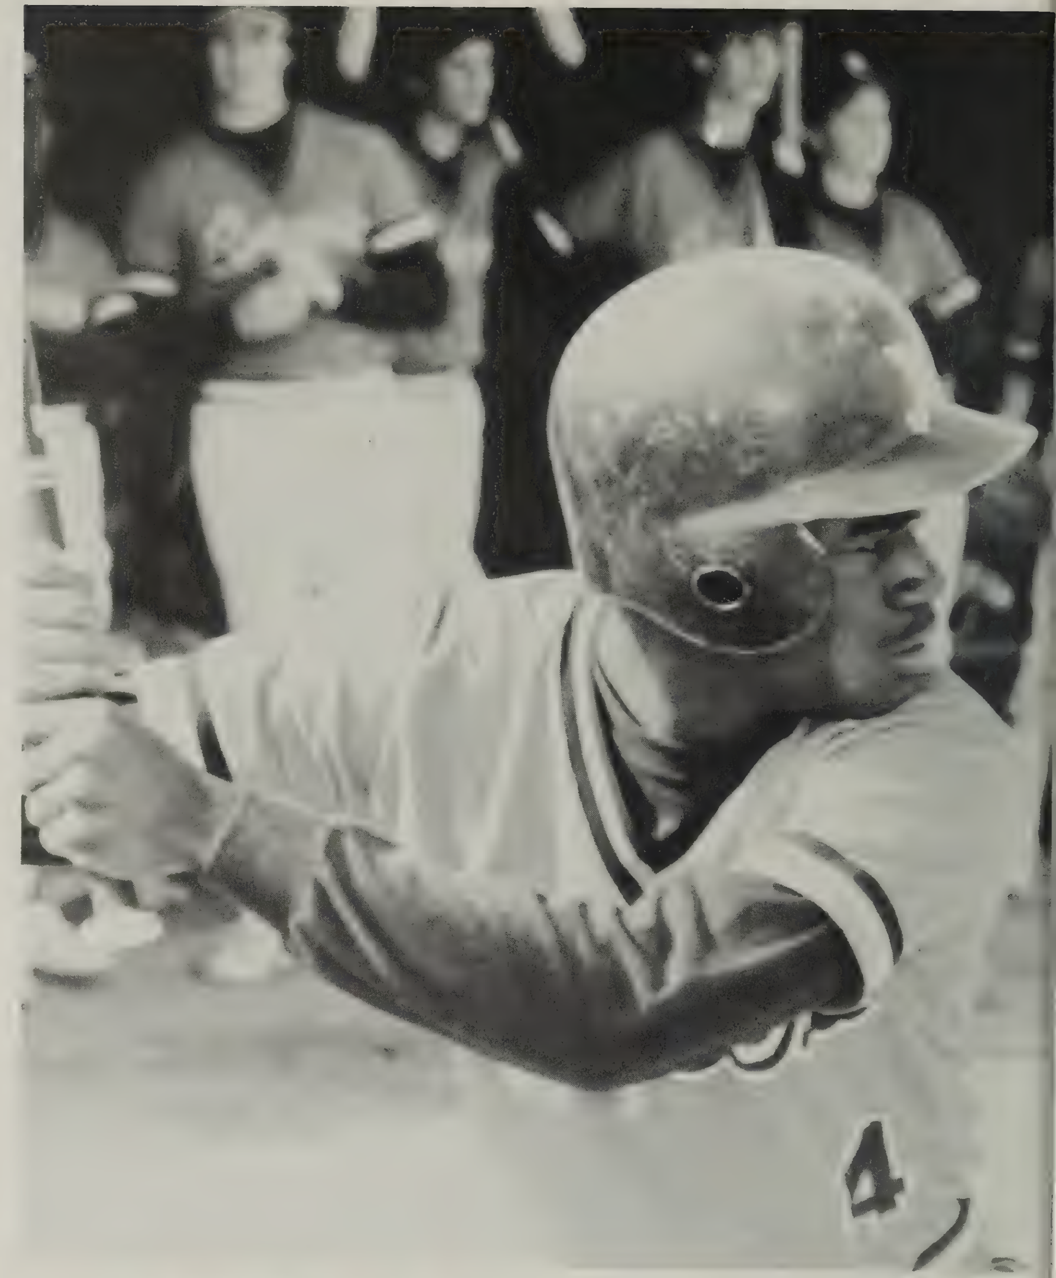
Talented Team



"We had a fine season under second year Coach Tim Lowry," commented pitcher Mike McCullough, "We had good talent and a lot of heart throughout the team the entire year." The Junior Varsity team ended its season with a record of 8 wins and 6 losses in the Dominion District and a 9 win 7 loss record overall.

The Lancers shut out the Clover Hill Cavaliers in the last game of the season 14-0. The highlight of the season was the 6-5 defeat of Mills Godwin, who later went on to finish 15-1 and in First place in the District standings. An individual highlight achievement was Andrew Maclemore hitting two homeruns during the season.

The Lancers set three new JV Baseball school records. Dan Canfield had the Most Stolen Bases in one season with 29 steals out of 32 attempts. Frankie Jenkins broke the record for Most Hits in one season which now is 20. The Highest Batting Average record was set by Garret Potts at .413. Garrett also received the Coach's Award at the Spring Banquet. The Most Improved Player was Frankie Jenkins. Sophomore Dan Canfield was selected as the team's Most Valuable Player. Freshman Mike McCullough concludes, "Everyone is looking forward to next year's season."

Records Broken

Many school records were broken by the Track teams. Four new records were set by both the boys' and girls' teams.

"We had a young team with one main goal — to make do with what we had," commented Charles Pittman. He continued, "Keeping this goal in mind and with the good coaching we received, we created a successful winning season." The boys placed third in the District meet with 86.5 points. All four of the new boys' records were set at Midlothian on May 7. Charles Pittman set a new High Jump record — 6'5.75", a 110 meter hurdles record — 14.9 seconds, a 300 meter hurdles — 40.3 seconds and was part of the 400 meter relay team with Greg Taylor, Gary Steele, and Mike Watts that set the record at 44.5 seconds. The boys ended the season with a 9-2 District record and a 10-2 record overall.

The girls had a 5 win 5 loss record and placed Sixth in the Tournament. Sonia Austin set a new triple Jump Record — 35'1", a 100-meter dash record — 13 seconds, and was a part of the 400-meter relay team with Kim Hunter, Sonia Ross and Jacquelyn Walker which set the record at 51.4 seconds. Kim Hunter set the other new record — the 400-meter dash which stands at 1:00.4, which is also a District meet record. Sophomore Marla Robertson remarked, "Our team had a very good year. Many Freshmen came out and did well, three of them set school records." Coach Munroe added, "Everyone on the team had some contribution to the success of our team, and we couldn't have done it without all of their hard work."

Trying to catch up to her opponent, Senior Suzi Rozum overtakes her Godwin opponent and is moving up fast on the Midlothian opposition.

New Ways To Raise Spirit

Reflections by the Seniors

"Raising spirit is the goal of all cheerleaders," commented Amber Cole; "In past years, we could have pep rallies but because of the size of the population of the school this year, we had to designate many spirit days and put up a lot of signs." The typical dress-up days were orange and blue, hat, sweatshirt, and hunting day. The new ones introduced were Tacky Tuesday, Wimpy Wednesday, Dress-up, class appreciation, Bass-Akwards, college and Rambo day. Special signs were made for "THE REAL RAMBO — #12," and "THE LEGEND — #5." The cheerleaders made food for the players and could always be heard in the halls saying, "You better come to the game tonight and get up in the stands and cheer with us." Amber Cole said, "I know I probably asked a million people during the year if they were going to go to the game on Friday night."

Both the Varsity and J.V. squads had new sponsors: Miss Karen Prymus, a former cheerleader, and Mrs. Carla Vipperman, a former majorette at MBK. Both squads were close, like "a family." Beth Schaefer remarks, "I love cheering for all my friends, and its a great feeling to be a part of the school. We developed a love for each other and especially for our new "Mom and DAD," Mr. and Mrs. Vipperman." Jacquelyn Walker added, "We ran into a lot of rough spots, but with hard work, we eventually worked them out. We became a huge family. We all share some of the best memories which I will never forget."

"Cheering is a full-time job that has the longest season of any sport, but it is very rewarding," said Shannon Smith. The cheerleaders went to a cheering camp at UR in August, worked for the Channel 23 telethon, took part in the S.C.A. adopt a family and performed a dance routine to "Oh Sheila" by Ready For The World. "After all the work is done, there is time for fun," added Amber. Michelle Duffie said, "I never cheered before, and I never knew it could be so much fun. We had a lot of good times.

Good Vibrations

Clubs

Clubs Sandwich Academics

Participation in clubs proved beneficial in many ways. The thrill of student drama productions, the challenge of producing the literary art magazine and the yearbook, and the excitement of making important decisions at an SCA meeting all made school more than academics.

Many clubs provided experience for future careers. DECA and VICA gave students skills useful in the field of marketing. FBLA, with an unprecedented membership of 130 students, prepared students for business careers. Homemaking skills were stressed by FHA. SODA gave its members the chance to teach elementary students value lessons.

Clubs also supplemented academic classes. The language clubs gave members an insight into the culture of other nations. The National Art Honor Society completed art projects for the community. Many band students increased their musical skills through their participation in the Marching Lancers.

Key to the success of the clubs was the SCA, which coordinated club activities as well as the infamous M&M's sale. The SCA sponsored Adopt-A-Family Christmas Program brought all of the clubs together in order to provide needy families with food, clothing, and Christmas presents.

Through participation in clubs, students got to know other students as they worked together to make school an exciting place. All in all, clubs demonstrated Good Vibrations.

Spotlighting Publications

About twenty students joined the staff of the literary art magazine, which provided students with a means for expressing their creativity. The entire student body was encouraged to submit prose, poetry, and artwork. Although clever signs such as "Cash Prizes*" (*will not be given) decorated the halls, only a small number of students submitted their work. However, managing editor Joanne Craig said, "That was not a big problem because everyone on the staff is so talented and creative." One way in which the staff expressed their creativity was by their request to be photographed in the girls' bathroom for yearbook pictures. The staff worked hard under the leadership of Mr. Donne Storino to provide Manchester with a creative outlet.

The editors and staff members of the yearbook worked many hours to update Memoir through lay-out and format changes, experimenting with creativity. With an increase in both yearbook and advertisement sales, the staff was able to see the revisions carried out. Sponsor Laura Smith and co-editors Noelle Reese and Sharon Webb were assisted by eleven section editors and their staffs. The editors worked hard, as Lancer Life editor Larry Harman pointed out, "The work was not crushing, but definitely a challenge." A large portion of this challenge was meeting the deadlines. Sharon Webb conceded, "Deadlines were definitely a hassle, but we managed to meet them."

The literary art magazine together with the Memoir strived to provide the students with an outlet for their creativity. As Joanne Craig admitted, "Because school can stifle your imagination, the magazine and yearbook are very important."

Working diligently, Tanya Pearson readies yearbook mailings.

The foreign language clubs enabled students to experience their respective language beyond the classroom. Each club participated actively in school and community activities. Most important, however, was the cultural background that the clubs provided the members.

Spotlighting Language Clubs

The Spanish Club began the year by preparing for the Homecoming float competition. Later in the fall, the club traveled to Ginter Hall Retirement Home to sing Spanish Christmas carols to the residents.

Under President Amy Carroll, the French Club won first place in the club division for their Homecoming float. The French Club participated in the Adopt-A-Family Christmas Program by sponsoring a needy family. During the Christmas season, the club also sang Christmas carols to residents of a nursing home. Alice Anne Potts received a scholarship from the French Club in recognition of her outstanding achievement in French V. The club finished the year by holding the annual banquet.

The Latin Club members traveled to Roanoke with the Latin classes to participate in the state-wide Latin Convention. The convention featured competitions, movies, and skits during the week-end. One of the club members, Elizabeth Bilyeu, held the office of historian for the Virginia Junior Classic League and was responsible for a portion of the convention activities. Todd Early commented, "Latin Convention gave me a chance to wear my tye-dyed toga."

The Latin Club also participated in the float competition and donated food and presents to a needy family in the SCA Christmas Program. The club took up donations and was able to buy a new tricycle for the child they sponsored.

Each club contributed to the school and to the community as a whole. Language clubs provided students, especially their numerous underclassmen members, with an important cultural outlet.

The S.C.A. sponsored Blood Drive could have saved up to 420 lives. Approximately 140 students donated a pint of blood, and each pint can save the lives of three people. Senior Noelle Reese conceded, "I was scared about giving blood at first, but I felt good about it afterwards. And it didn't hurt."

Under the leadership of Elizabeth Bilyeu, the S.C.A. also served the community through the Thanksgiving Food Drive and the Christmas Adopt-A-Family Program. Seven families received complete Thanksgiving meals. The Christmas program involved the help of the clubs. Each club adopted a family and provided them with food and Christmas presents. Latin Club member Laura Bilyeu said, "I wish we could have seen the little boy when he saw the tricycle that we bought him!"

A new item on the S.C.A. agenda was the Valentine's Day Dance held at Monacan High School. The dance was a joint effort, with the Manchester S.C.A. working closely with the S.C.A. at Monacan. The dance featured the XNTRIX, a popular local band. Elizabeth Bilyeu commented, "I think everyone had a good time at the dance. It was fun to see our old friends from junior high school."

Another new dance was sponsored by the S.C.A. A sock hop was held in celebration of the 50's Nostalgia Week. Student disc jockeys played the hits from the 50's and 60's. Other students impersonated the Beach Boys and the Supremes.

As always the S.C.A. sponsored the Homecoming Parade and Dance and the infamous school-wide M&M's candy sale. According to senior Tim Padgett, "I probably bought forty dollars worth of M&M's! I should have stock in the company!"

Spotlighting Honor Societies

Students who have excelled in certain academic areas were recognized by membership in one of the three honor societies. The National Honor Society is comprised of students with a 3.6 grade point average and strong leadership qualities. Nineteen new members were tapped during the November ceremony. Sharon Webb commented, "When I went out into the auditorium, I couldn't find the person I was supposed to tap. It was pretty embarrassing wandering around looking for him!"

The organization provided students an incentive to make good grades by giving a doughnut breakfast and an ice-cream social to those students that made honor roll. The group also updated the honor roll boards, on which Pee Wee Herman was continually recognized for maintaining a straight-A average.

The graduating members were honored at a Spring banquet, at which they received their stolls for graduation. Mrs. Pat Breeden and Mrs. Maura Smith co-sponsored the organization.

The National Art Honor Society included in its membership those students who excelled in some phase of artistic work. Under the leadership of President Rachel Young and Sponsor Mrs. Kathrine Robertson, the members helped the SCA decorate the cafeteria for the Homecoming Dance. The group also completed various art projects for the community.

Quill and Scroll honored student journalists from the yearbook and the literary art magazine. The group tapped three new members in March. This small group had an office for every occasion, as every member was an office holder.

Spotlighting America's Future

The Future Business Leaders of America along with the Future Homemakers of America gave members important experiences for later careers. FBLA, the largest club at Manchester, began with an assembly for representatives of the business community. These local businessmen and businesswomen answered questions concerning the growing opportunities available for business majors. The club-sponsored type-a-thon served to raise money for the club and improve the typing skills of the members at the same time.

The club held several pizza parties during the year, allowing the officers and members to meet in an informal atmosphere. With their "Teacher Treats," the club presented all of the teachers with candy for holidays, such as Valentines Day, Halloween, and Thanksgiving.

FHA also recognized important skills. Under the leadership of President Wendy Henderson, the club emphasized the value of homemaking skills. The club began the year by receiving a new look. A skin-care professional gave club members a free make-over. Wendy Henderson commented, "Everyone had a lot of fun getting make-overs. At first we weren't sure how they would turn out, but they turned out good!"

The club worked to promote the cake-bakeoff. Prizes were awarded to the teachers and students who baked the best cakes. A few lucky teachers judged the cakes. Mrs. Debbie Easton commented, "The cakes were good. I really enjoyed getting to eat them!"

The band — no longer a laughing matter. The Marching Lancers who were once laughed at, served as a source of school pride. With an increase in size and talent, the band struck a clear note.

In preparation for the season, the Marching Lancers attended a band camp at Ferrum College where they learned their entire show. Anita Previle remarked, "It was very hot there. The work was tough, but it all paid off — we received a standing ovation at the first game."

Spotlighting Band

The Lancers attended several competitions and parades. They competed at the Tunstall High School Trojan Invitational, where drum majors Susan Winkler and Mike Holmes took second place. The band also competed at the Roanoke Rapids 1985 Eastern North Carolina Band Festival and at the Garner High School Band Classic. Altogether the band received two ratings of good and one rating of excellent. The parades included both the State and County Fairs. The Lancers were also invited to march in the parade opening the Sixth Street Marketplace.

Many Marching Lancers were also members of the stage and symphonic bands. Ms. Ellen Griggs directed all of the bands.

Angela Hundley commented, "I met a lot of new people in band and enjoyed getting to know them. It has really been special marching and has helped make high school something to enjoy, not just endure."

Beth Ickes continued, "We have really worked hard and the band has grown in both size and spirit."

Director Ellen Griggs said, "I am very proud of the hard work and dedication displayed by these students. The school is very fortunate to have such talent. Not only should the students be commended for an outstanding year, but the parents have worked equally hard and are appreciated by me and the students."

the units attended band camp with the Marching Lancers.

The flag corps, rifles, and honor guard all received new uniforms in October. The uniforms were mainly blue pants with silver shirts, and blue cowboy hats with silver sequins. First year flag corps member Amy Austin state, "The uniforms gave us a new confidence that improved our performances."

The lancerettes, too, received new uniforms that were used for competition only. The uniforms consisted of white skirts, shirts, boots, and scarves and ribbons instead of the traditional pom-pons. These uniforms were purchased by the band parents. Mrs. Frances Harris, a teacher-band parent remarked, "The thing I liked most about being a band parent was seeing the band progress. I also liked being part of the extracurricular activities that are very school spirited."

The auxilaries placed in three of the competitions they attended. In the Tunstall competition, the combined majorettes/lancerettes took second place. In Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, the rifles and majorettes/lancerettes took third place. The auxilaries also traveled to Quebec, Canada with the rest of the Marching Lancers to compete in a competition. Kim Hudson, a first year flag corps member commented, "The Quebec trip was so exciting! Flag corps was fun and rewarding. I learned a lot."

Later they could be heard snoring above the lines of the actors on stage.

Spotlighting Drama

The two leads were played by regulars on the Manchester stage. Johnathan Shipley, a junior, played the sneaky Mortimer Frothingham; while, senior Michelle Duffie played the other lead, the sweet, innocent Purity Dean. The smaller role of Nellie Morris was developed into a much larger character by Krista Setelin. Krista explained, "Nellie was just a silly, flirtatious character that developed when I put on a black sequined dress."

The large cast was supported by an equally large crew. Under the direction of Mr. Ray Goss and Angela Hundley the play was performed three times in early December. The crew doubled as extras, who attended a party in the last scene. A sneak preview was put on for the student body after school. Johnathan Shipley commented, "The performance after school helped to promote the production, and it was good practice for us."

The cast included Amy Bucklen as Mrs. Jonathan Logan, Chad Smith as Jonathan Logan, Marybeth Hessian as Ethelinda Hewlitt, Jenni Mann as Alison Hewlitt, Pat Brannelly as Leander Longfellow, Michelle Duffie as Purity Dean, Johnathan Shipley as Mortimer Frothingham, Tony Domazos as Jed Winn, Eric Papendorp as E.Z. Pickens, Polly Hathaway as Imogene Pickens, Kristin Mancini as Faith Hogue, Karen Young as Letty Barber, and Krista Setelin as Nellie Morris.

Puffing on his cigar, pianist Chris Leitch plays an active part in the production.

Filling the stage, the large cast is ready for the opening performance.

Practicing for the opening night, Polly Hathaway, Johnathan Shipley, and Marybeth Hessian rehearse one last time.

Not a nice guy, Mortimer Frothingham (Johathan Shipley) prepares to stalk his prey.

Rob Marshall as Jim

Joel Traylor as Tom

Krista Setelin as Amanda

The second dramatic production, The Glass Menagerie by Tennessee Williams differed greatly from the first production. The second play featured a much smaller cast, and unlike the first play, it was drama, rather than a comedy.

Spotlighting Drama

Two of the extras from Pure as the Driven Snow or a Working Girl's Secret played lead parts for the first time. Joel Traylor and Rob Marshall were given a chance to chant, "Extras rule!" Joel commented on his first major acting experience saying, "There was a lot of work to do. This play can be done in different ways. Tennessee Williams said that it was open to interpretation. Mr. Goss let me interpret my character how I wanted to. I recognized early that I had to do it naturally."

In order to prepare for the March performances, the cast first read the play and then talked about the characters. The small size of the cast enabled Mr. Goss to work closely with each cast member.

The cast included Joel Traylor as Tom, Krista Setelin as Amanda, Michelle Duffie as Laura, and Rob Marshall as Jim. Chris Leitch composed and performed his own piano music.

The play was again directed by Mr. Ray Goss and Angela Hundley. Amy Bucklen served as the stage manager, and Penny Driscoll worked behind the scenes as the house manager. Chris White, who was in charge of the lighting for the performances remarked, "It was fun to work behind the scenes and watch the play progress. I think that the actors did an awesome job." Amy Bucklen added, "This play is hard because of the different possibilities for interpreting the characters, but the cast did an excellent job."

Krista Setelin remarked, "I had always wanted to play Amanda. I was very excited when we decided to put on this play." According to Joel Traylor, "For me, the play was more of a learning experience. I'm really glad that I got a chance to do it, and I'm hoping to do more acting."

Waiting for the gentleman caller, Amanda (Krista Setelin) reassures her daughter Laura (Michelle Duffie) that she is attractive.

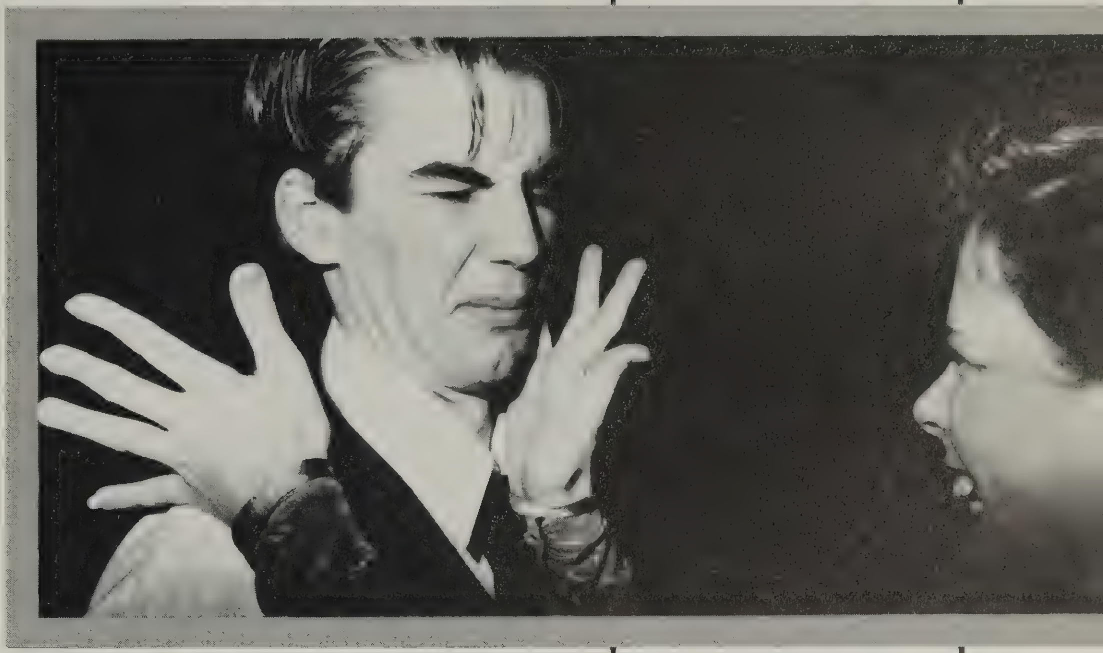
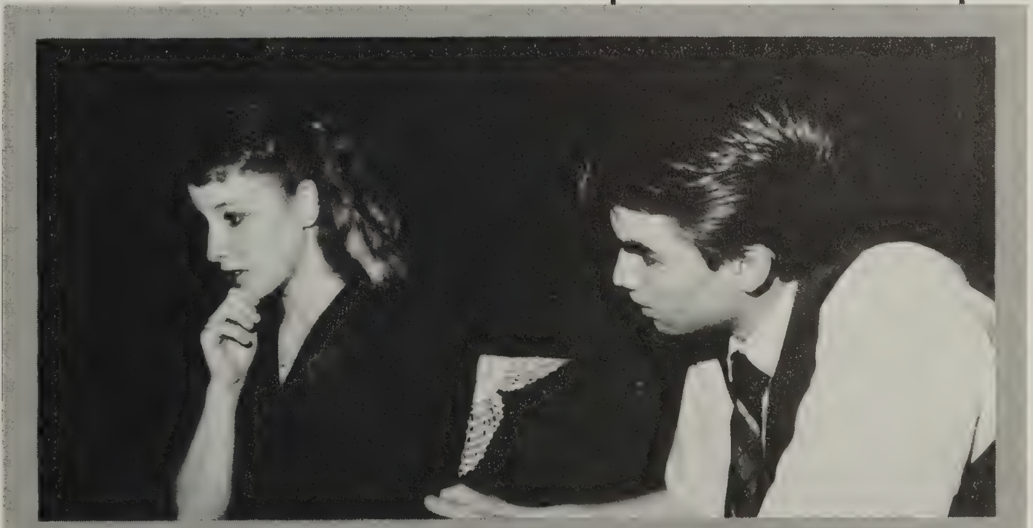
With an intense look on his face, Joel Traylor is surprised by Krista Setelin.



Behind the scenes, Chris White operates the lighting for the performances.



Showing concern for his sister, Tom (Joel Traylor) asks Laura (Michelle Duffie) why she is worried.

"Best Pizza In Town!" Sal's remains to be a popular student meeting place.

Remaining popular, Moongate Restaurant continues to attract students and their parents.

Good Vibrations

Living in the Community

Being a Lancer meant being involved in the community as well as school activities. For many students involvement meant part-time jobs. Clothing stores attracted students employees by offering discounts for their merchandise. Kim Davenport, a senior and shoe salesperson, commented, "The discount was a real incentive for me to shop where I work."

Businesses, such as McDonald's and Pizza Hut, played an important part in the social lives of students. After almost any school day or sporting event, Lancers could be found frequenting these restaurants. Fast food restaurants were major employers for Lancers. According to senior Michele Feeback, "Working at McDonald's was fun, because so many people from Manchester worked here."

Many area businesses supported school activities. McDonald's donated supplies for the Homecoming Dance; while, Wilkinson's Florist provided discounts for the Homecoming mums and the Valentine's Day carnations. Ukrop's also gave discounts for activities, such as the Quill and Scroll tapping ceremony.

The opening of new stores attracted student shoppers. The new Goodes Bridge Shopping center provided conveniences such as a movie rental store. Cloverleaf Mall remained a popular student hangout.

The growing county provided students with jobs, shopping, and hang-outs. The strong impact of the community upon a Lancer's life was indisputable.

Colophon: What It Is!

During the summer Editors-in-Chief Noelle Reese and Sharon Webb began preparing for the hard work that was ahead. As deadlines began arriving, help came from a few productive section editors. These included Freshmen Editor Tanya Pearson, Sophomore Editor Lori Blasioli, Junior Editor Tammy Alley, Senior Editors Michele Feeback and Lisa Stevenson, Faculty Editor Julie Shaw, and Sports Editor Amber Cole. Special thanks goes to Laura Bilyeu for her help in photographing certain events and to Mrs. Myra Shumate for her help with the Senior Section. The staff acknowledges Herff Jones representative Mike Smith and Sponsor Laura Smith for all their time and help in producing The Memoir. The staff would also like to recognize Mrs. Francis Daniel for keeping the financial records and would like to extend best wishes upon her retirement.

Volume 48 of the Memoir of Manchester High School, Richmond Virginia, was silkscreened on front and backbone by Herff Jones of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. It underwent a press run of 850 copies, each with 184 pages. It is Smyth sewn with a trim size of 9x12. The cover is Burnt Sienna with applied color of Ivory #22. End sheets are Ivory with Brown #469 ink printed on the front cover. Ermine paper was used throughout the book.

All lettering was done by Herff Jones with print type Stymie and Freehand. Shatter type was used on the cover and division pages. Stymie 6 pt. was used for Senior and Faculty activities; 8 pt. was used for captions and underclassmen names; 10 pt. and 14 pt. were used for body copy; 14 pt and 24pt. were used for subheads; 36 pt. was used for heads. All rule lines were set by Herff Jones in 1 pt. or 2 pt. All grey pages were 30% or 60% full bleed.

Camera Post and Delmar Studios developed all the prints used. Senior portraits were taken by Delmar and Heather Studios. All underclassmen mugs were taken by Delmar Studios.

As Tennyson has so aptly expressed it, "I am a part of all that I have met." During my twenty-three years at Manchester High School I have met many people who have influenced my life. With them I have shared joys and sorrows. I have taken great pride in the many accomplishments of the faculty and students in the fields of academics, athletics and the arts and will treasure many fond memories of my years at Manchester. Mrs. Francine Daniel

The editors would like to warn all readers that much of this yearbook was completed during late night and early morning hours; in other words, it might not make sense. Noelle Reese and Sharon Webb

Looking To The Future

With the last game played, the last exam completed, and the last diploma handed out, students were given a chance to reflect on the year. The year's end had the greatest impact upon the seniors, who had plans to go into the real world — either college or full-time employment. Anxieties about the future were pushed aside as the senior class made plans for Beach Week, the last time the class would be together as a group.

Graduation also represented a step forward for the other classes. Juniors would finally receive the title of "Senior." Juniors anxiously awaited the priviliges of senior status and hoped that they had parked in "Egypt" for the last time.

Sophomores became upperclassmen and signed up for the traditionally hard junior classes. Freshmen could finally feel like a part of the school and looked forward to making fun of next year's freshmen.

An apple a day, Elizabeth Cash uses the computer in the library.

Welcome Bach! Mrs. Polly Sibert conducts the newly re-formed orchestra as Michelle Moser plays the cello.

Hoping to become a Hokie, Jeff Bogdon fills out an application for admission to Virginia Tech.

End of the season camaraderie! Clare Speno, Keri Hargrave, Sarah Bailey, Sonja Owens and Jennifer Herr take a break from softball practice.

The Lancers accomplished much during the year; not only tangible achievements such as a successful softball season, but student accomplishment was also demonstrated by the sense of student unity which accompanied the last events of the year. Prom, Senior Assembly, and ultimately Graduation brought the end of the school year, but these events also represented a beginning.
